

- General guidelines for good practices in scientific computing are found in [Wilson2014].
- I went to the 2019 Petnica Summer school in Petnica, Serbia. This was a good general introduction and overview to astrophysics.
- A very interesting article about Monte Carlo methods for radiative transfer problems, from a mathematical point of view, is [Dimarco2018]. I am currently trying to reproduce the numerical experiments that are reported in the article.
